and Fall of the Dalton Gang-Many Train Robberies-Curious and Strange Cases Like the Alice Mitchell Murde and the Borden Mystery. IIThe leading event in the criminal annal of 1892, except the acts of armed mobs, has been the destruction of the Dalton gang atter a long series of bank and train robberies. Many of the deeds of mob violence are so closely interwoven with industrial events that it is bard to sever them. A curiosity in crime is the case of Alice Mitchell, the Memphis homicide. As mysteries, the Borden murder and the express theft, in which packages of brown paper were substituted for currency shipped to New Orleans, were the most remarkable. The violation of American neutrality laws by Mexican bandits operating under the guise of revolutionists are among the nota-ble events of the year. A melancholy feature is the growth of lynch law in the
